Mev's Tears: Part 1

Mev has no tears

I've only seen his 'real' tears
3 times in our 8 years history.

The first time was when Mev's younger brother Carl left Korea after his visit.

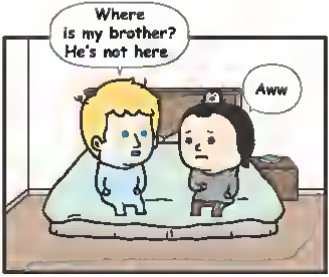
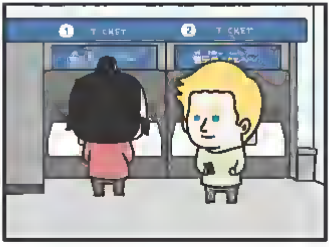
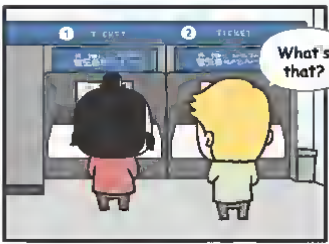
The next morning



The second time was
2-3 years later.



After we got married in Korea,
It was o few days before his birthday.



To go somewhere, we were in the train station.
And I printed more tickets than what we needed that day

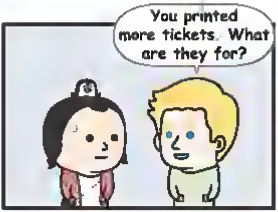
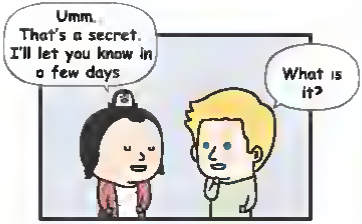
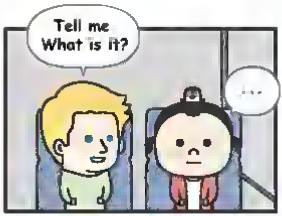
The tickets were for his birthday present.
Because I planned to visit the city, Dae-jeon, to visit a big science museum and observatory.



I was very careful but he saw me.



I couldn't think of a good lie so
I just told him to stop asking firmly.



Tell me
What is it?
...

I don't understand...
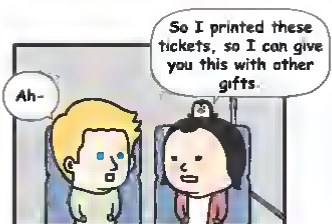
What is it?

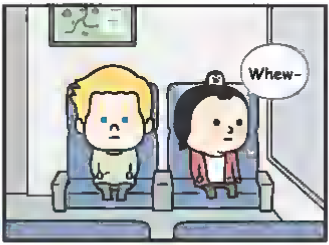
He didn't give up at all,
so that made me exploded..

Why is my present a train ticket?

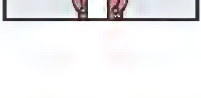
You said you want to go to the museum!!

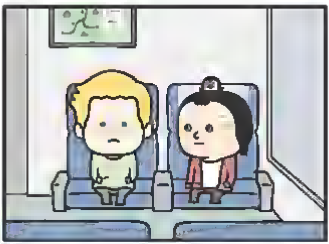


So I told him that
I would cancel the plan.



Mev





That was the second time that I saw him crying.

The third time was just a few months ago...

To be continued...